About myself
I am a 4rd year student of KPI, but I have the opportunity to allocate 40+ hours per week to work. I have been learning frontend for over a year and have 6 months of commercial experience.I am a punctual, calm person, doing my job comes first for me. Predisposition to parse logical chains. I prefer to resolve conflicts through cold dialogue. When setting tasks, I try to analyze deeply what the customer requires. I am ready to learn technologies that are not included in my list of skills.What am I looking for? A team with experienced developers, in whose environment I could further improve and expand my programming skills.
